

Wood have, could have, should have!

Naturally inspired. Positively grounded. The majestic, tactile, and healing promise of the forest floor is making its way indoor. At the office or home, wood materials are re-rooted, re-defined and re-invented with possibilities that reach from earth to sky.

Re-forested and ecologically sensitive wood materials have extended the design possibilities of any interior landscape. Sensual, organic, and stunning, wood applications are reaching new heights.

Marquetry inlaid wood panels of plantation grown Pawlonia, bamboo rings embedded in glass panels, the soulful elegance in a forest floor carpet of woven bark or fallen leaves.

Branching out with an unexpected inspiration of wood is taking root with interiors worldwide. Walk nature's pathway and breathe fresh inspiration:

www.mayaromanoff.com
www.livingglass.com
www.archsystems.com

www.celineinteriors.com